On the evening of May 27th 2007, I was harassed at the children's Pool beach in La Jolla Ca. I was walking down the stairs to the public beach and a man who identified him self as Michael working for the Seal watch San Diego tried to stop me from going down on to the beach and told me it was against the law for me to go down to the beach. I continued down and he called me an idiot, he told a young couple that was standing their that I was a Seal hater.
